Composite Decking Material

Our goal is to be your one source for composite decking, deck railings and composite fencing. We offer a carefully crafted selection of products designed to help you meet the evolving needs of a diverse and increasingly sophisticated marketplace — focusing on low-maintenance beauty, lasting durability and easy installation.

Our approach to manufacturing

Fiber Composites, LLC, makes fiberon® composite decking material and is the second-largest manufacturer of composite decking and railing in North America. Our manufacturing prowess is the result of world-class polymer chemists and extrusion professionals employing the latest technology and using the finest raw materials. Each of our product lines is best-in-class. It's no secret: Quality in equals quality out.

Our product lines

No single composite decking line meets the aesthetic demands of all consumers. For suppliers, this can be a logistics nightmare, especially if it means you have to deal with numerous vendors. Our product lines and one-source strategy offer flexibility in meeting the needs of homeowners and deckbuilders while minimizing headaches for distributors.
